About the Project's Website

CCWTP is shorthand for the “Catlett & Calverton Wastewater Treatment Project”.

Anytime you want information on the project, visit the county's website – 24/7 – where all public documents related to the work are posted.

CCWTP.FauquierCounty.gov will get you there – and don't add “www” in front – the URL here is all you need.

Plan To Meet Mark Crater of the Construction Team

Mark Crater is a project superintendent for English and has been with the company for 19 years. He is a valued member of our team.

One of his more important duties on this project will be direct communication with property owners along the force main pipe route and at the step system installation locations.

Mark will be driving a white English pickup clearly marked with the English logo (below) and will have a picture ID to identify who he is. He will generally be contacting property owners approximately 1 to 2 weeks before starting work at the location.

To introduce you further to Mark, he is a native of Farmville. Before English, he worked on his family farm and for the family's excavation business. Mark was hired as a dozer operator, and then progressed to loader operator and excavator. He was promoted to foreman in 2006, and Superintendent in 2012. His most recent job is the Mintbrook Development project in Bealeton.
